California Mortgage Bankers Association 2022 Future Leaders Program

Providing an opportunity for the California MBA and its members to help identify and develop the next generation of qualified, responsible, and capable market leaders.

I. Program Overview

California MBA's Future Leaders Program is an executive leadership development program that delivers a comprehensive curriculum for individuals who have demonstrated leadership interest and abilities. Participants enhance their skills through two academic/leadership training sessions (and virtual learning opportunities) provided by the Pepperdine University Executive Education Program, as well as additional educational opportunities through conferences provided by the California MBA.

Participants may also be provided with a number of virtual experiences throughout the year, from Q&A opportunities with industry leaders, and topic-focused discussions with subject matter experts.

Program participants will also be matched with a member of the California MBA Board of Directors, who will be an invaluable resource and mentor for the participant throughout the program year, making this a truly comprehensive leadership development experience.

II. Application Process

California MBA member companies may nominate one employee to participate in the annual program, which includes complimentary registration for all California MBA events for that year, invitations to exclusive functions, participation in the Pepperdine University Executive Education Program and recognition upon the completion of the program. Once selected, candidates will choose a program track to participate in, either Residential or Commercial.

An employee of a California MBA member company in good standing shall submit an application which will include professional recommendations and general applicant information. The California MBA shall select up to 25 applicants to be invited to participate in the program. All applications must be submitted by February 25, 2022.

Tuition

Cost: $2,500 if application is submitted by December 31, 2021
$2,800 applications submitted after December 31, 2021

Payment is due by March 18, 2022. The tuition covers all conference registrations, the Pepperdine University Executive Education Program and participation in all California MBA events. Pepperdine University Executive Education Program

The Pepperdine University Executive Education Program provides hands-on sessions geared towards the behavioral elements of effective leadership. The cohort-style approach will establish a 'learning-team class culture' that will support and enhance transfer of learning throughout all sessions.

The program uses cutting-edge tools to enhance leadership skills, including the acclaimed Hogan Challenges assessment, which pinpoints specific attitudes, mind-sets, or behaviors which could delay or derail career advancement. This will provide a comprehensive look at the Future Leader's performance, and will form the basis of personal leadership development strategies.

The program consists of two parts:

- In-person sessions at Pepperdine University's Malibu campus. Here you will experience three (3) days of in-person leadership and academic training, beginning with a 1½-day intensive Leadership Workshop, plus a half-day Academic Workshop in June (2 days total), followed by a half-day Leadership Workshop and a half-day Academic Workshop in October (1 day total). Outcomes from the workshops will include: an assessment of each participant's opportunities for performance improvement and leadership development utilizing the Hogan Challenges Assessment tool, practical sessions establishing new habits and patterns of thinking and behavior, psycho-physiologically based tools for self-monitoring and self-assessment. The academic portion of the sessions are led by Dr. Abraham Park, Director of Fred Sands Institute of Real Estate; Associate Professor of Finance; and Department Chair of Accounting and Finance. Leadership/behavioral study portion is led by Dr. Julie Chesley, Associate Professor of Organization Theory and Management.
- Participants will also experience interactive group learning opportunities, including the group's final project, to be presented to the California MBA Board of Directors at the board's annual retreat in November. The groups will be provided private instruction and support (virtual) from Pepperdine University instructors on a variety of relevant topics, helping to broaden and deepen the student's understanding of today's marketplace.

III. Program Benefits

The Future Leaders Program provides networking and development opportunities that are priceless – but it also makes available a number of valuable events and tools for one remarkable price. The Future Leaders Program is designed to benefit the participating individuals, companies, as well as California MBA in the following ways:

Participating Members: The Future Leaders Program has evolved as a highly recognized program that enhances executive skills and provides an opportunity for participants to develop relationships that last an entire career. Members will have an exclusive opportunity to experience first-hand the educational and networking opportunities at California MBA conferences/events that would not normally be available to them. Because all California MBA events will be accessible, the program participants will have the unique chance to learn about different sectors of the real estate finance industry.

Participating Companies: Companies can expect to have their employee ready to take-on immense responsibility with higher levels of accountability. At the completion of the program, participating companies should find a much more well-rounded employee that is ready, willing and able to take a leadership role in the company.

California MBA: The Association will benefit by grooming future industry leaders that will not only reflect well on the industry at large, but will have a built-in connection with California MBA, thus helping to insure the continuation of Association leadership.
